SLIM

Somehow, a box full of pictures that are over 70 years old ended up in my possession. My great Grandfather, affectionately named Slim, took hundreds of pictures during his time stationed in the Middle East during World War 2 as an engineer for the railroad. From there, across oceans, developed, embedded in photo albums, from dresser drawer to shoe box. I have this amazing collection of his experiences, what he saw, and the people he shared an environment with. I've dug around and spent hours looking at the almost endless amount of photos to curate this photo book to share with you those experiences, the people and the environment that he captured. I hope you enjoy it as much as I did making it.
